CAPE COD THEATRE COMPANY - HARWICH JUNIOR THEATRE

From our simple beginnings in 1951 at the Exchange Hall in Harwich Center to our current incarnation as a nationally recognized source of year-round entertainment, education, and outreach, CCTC/HJT has always meant more than the sum of its productions and programs. For thousands, we are “home,” brimming with intergenerational activity, creativity, and collaboration.

Betty Bobb, our founder, dreamed of creating a place providing opportunities for individuals of all ages to take part in every aspect of the theatrical experience – from set and costume design, to playwriting and prop making, to directing and performing, to lights and sound. Now generations into Betty’s vision, we are more vibrant than ever, a place for people of all ages to stage their dreams. You can help!

READY TO SHINE IN YOUR ROLE AS A CCTC|HJT SPONSOR?

Cape Cod Theatre Company|Harwich Junior Theatre (CCTC/HJT) appreciates the generous contributions of businesses, organizations, and foundations. Institutional support helps us deliver the incredible experience of live theater, along with life-changing education and outreach programs. In turn, we provide sponsors with high visibility to more than 20,000 patrons annually and through schools, the community, and social media.

Performance. Annually, we present ~10 main stage shows, including classics, modern dramas, and musicals—from Shakespeare to Sondheim. Every production inspires imagination and creative spirit among actors, artists, and viewers alike. You can sponsor specific shows, seasonal line-ups, behind-the-scenes roles, and more.

Education. In addition to school matinees for main stage productions, we offer vacation week and summer camps plus year-round classes in acting, playwriting, musical theater, technical design, and more. Donating funds for scholarships makes education accessible to all.

Outreach. In schools, our teaching artists facilitate student productions and dramatic workshops that align with the state curriculum and foster development through acting, movement, and improv. We also partner with community organizations and businesses to inspire creative thinking and dialogue on critical issues like health and nutrition, bullying, substance abuse, and climate change.
